Todd: Which brings us to another question: how do you think we can change college to make better? Like what are some changes we can make to college?

Marianne: Wow.

Todd: Like I have one idea. One idea I have is that we're starting to see it a little bit with MOOCs but there's no reason that you can't take a class at any other university via video from your university. So example, if you go to UCLA, you can take art classes from Harvard or somewhere else. I think that would be really good if you can start doing that. So you're not only limited to the professors on your campus.

Marianne: Wow. Yes, that's a great idea. Yes.

Todd: Anything that you, looking back, you wish you could have done differently at university?

Marianne: Well the big issue about university especially in the US is that it costs a lot of money. And so, if we could find ways to – because for example, you are talking about having access to a lot of content information for free actually – I mean, for free. Like you just have to pay your Internet connection and suddenly, you have access to a lot of knowledge.

But when you go to college, it costs a lot of money. So this is a big issue actually. So if you could find a way to, financially speaking, like if we can find a way to make university more accessible to a wider audience, it could be nice. But I know it's difficult because we have to pay teachers. We have to pay all the infrastructures about university, so it costs a lot of money.

So I don't have the solution right now but I think working on this like free education or cheaper education – I mean, cheaper in a way talking about the entrance fee, not losing the quality of education. Yeah. If we can work on this point.

Todd: Yeah. I totally agree.

The Wolf's Tale

Louise Cooper

You all know the story of Little Red Riding Hood, right? Well, I'm sure of one thing. You don't know what really happened. No one does, except me. I know people don't believe in fairy tales these days, but the Riding Hood story happens to be true. I should know. You see, I'm the wolf¹. And the rest of them—the girl, the woodsman², all the other people—they got it wrong. All wrong. They think I killed³ and ate old Granny. I didn't. I wouldn't have harmed⁴ a hair of her head, but when I tried to tell them so, of course they couldn't understand me. So the woodsman cut me open. Oh, how that hurt⁵. I can remember the pain⁶; it was horrible. Even now I have nightmares⁷ about it, and I shudder⁸ and cry out⁹ in my sleep, until I wake up screaming¹⁰.

They didn't kill me, you see. They thought they did, but they didn't. I can't be killed that way. It has to be something else. A silver bullet¹¹, that's the only thing that will work. A silver bullet, for a werewolf¹².

Because that's what I really am. I was attacked by a werewolf one night, years ago. It bit¹³ me, and infected me with its curse¹⁴. I'd give anything to be free. I'd rather die¹⁵ than live like this, changing every full moon¹⁶ into a monster that no one can control. I'd give anything to be what I used to be. A harmless¹⁷ human being. A little old lady, who was kind¹⁸ to everyone. Red Riding Hood thought she knew all about her dear granny.

But she didn't. No one does. Only me . . . and, now, you.

9. How can the wolf be killed?

A) By a bat

B) By a bullet

C) By a car

D) By a kiss

10. Why does the wolf have nightmares?

- A) Because a silver bullet can kill a werewolf.
- B) Because he is afraid of the Granny.
- C) Because he has a terrible headache.
- D) Because the woodsman cut him open and it Hurt.

11. Who is the narrator of the story?

- A) The wolf (in fact the Granny)
- B) The Little Red Riding Hood
- C) The Woodsman
- D) The autor

Let's face it -- between school, home, friends, and extracurricular activities, life as a teenager can be chaotic. Many teens view summer as a time for relaxation and vacation, but for some, it's all about the money. Summer jobs for teens should be fun, social, and flexible. Here are some popular part-time jobs that let teens earn extra cash while gaining valuable experience for the future.

Landscaping and Lawn Care - Landscaping and lawn care are booming businesses during the summer months. Many people don't have the time or aren't physically capable of caring for their lawn and garden. Landscaping is a challenging job that entails manual labor and long hours. If you don't mind getting dirty and love the outdoors, nature, and designing, this job is right for you. You'll hone your creativity and benefit from the physical activity, while learning about responsibility, hard work, and time-management.

Life Guard - If you are at least 15 years old and a proficient swimmer, you might consider training to be a certified lifeguard. Besides spending your working hours in the sun soaking in the rays, you'll learn valuable lessons in responsibility and safety. To become a certified lifeguard, a 37-hour course is required, which includes training in CPR, AED, first aid, surveillance techniques, proper use of rescue equipment, and managing spinal injury victims. You'll also have to pass a written test and a swimming test. Life guarding is a rewarding job that develops confidence, decision-making skills, conflict resolution, and professionalism.

Dog-Walking/Pet-Grooming - Many elderly neighbors, friends on vacation, and people who work long hours need help washing and walking their pets. If you enjoy working with animals and have a responsible work ethic, then this is the job for you. Your part-time business will begin to pick up once you set your reputation as a reliable and available animal lover.

Food Services- If you are a social butterfly and love interacting with people, restaurant employment might be right for you. You can choose from such positions as cashier, host/hostess, server, bus girl/boy, food runner, dish washer, and prep cook. Many towns have popular and unique diners and drive-ins, which make for a fun and social working environment. Food industry positions can help you develop people skills, self-esteem, and responsibility, while enjoying a bit of socializing.

Movie Theater - Free movies, free popcorn, and socializing are just a few of the benefits you get when working at a movie theater. If you are a movie buff, this is the perfect environment for you to spend some working hours. Concessions, tickets sales, ticket stubs, and usher are a few of the positions you can choose from. You can choose to beat the heat during hot summer days, and maybe catch a free flick at night

Babysitting -Babysitting is a tried and true way for any teenager who enjoys kids to make money. Neighbours, family friends, and relatives with small children often need help and want someone they know and trust. In order to offer more valuable services, teens can take classes on handling emergency situations and become certified in CPR and first aid. When a teenager proves her responsibility, reliability, and availability on a regular basis, her part-time business will be booming.
